Dear ENIL members,

Another two years have passed since our last General Assembly in 2011. It is with pleasure that I address the ENIL members and present the ENIL 2011 and 2012 Activity reports. ENIL is an active, growing organization. We can be proud of what we have accomplished, but know that there is so much more to do and so many threats still to address.

Today, Independent Living is higher on the European agenda, but at the same time financial cuts across the European Union are causing havoc for our members. There is a risk that people will have to return to institutions as they no longer have access to services which support them to live in the community; as a result many Independent Living services being dismantled. Our terminology is often hijacked, with many claiming to provide Independent Living services but in fact do not.

ENIL has greater visibility. There is more stability with a reliable Secretariat in Dublin. Development in the regions has increased, with more Centers for Independent Living active in the spreading of Independent Living. Having an increasing number of allies makes it possible for ENIL to have an active exchange on the experience of living as citizens, with access to rights and full participation.

ENIL members stretch from Iceland to Bulgaria and from Finland to Cyprus. This includes new valuable contacts, for example in Belarus, Georgia and Bosnia and Herzegovina. Active work in the regions has facilitated new exchanges with older members in, for example, Holland and Finland.

ENIL has participatory status at the Council of Europe and is active in various European Union projects including DREAM, INNOSERV and DISCIT. These activities help to spread Independent Living and show that ENIL is a reliable partner. There is now emerging work in the field of international development cooperation, with new contacts in Bosnia and Herzegovina through STIL, an ENIL member from Sweden.

The growing EU network with many new allies is due especially to the work of the ENIL Board member - Peter Lambrechts - with his work against the cuts and the ENIL Policy Officer, Regional Team Manager and Coordinator of ECCL - Ines Bulic - with her work on de-institutionalization.

Our movement is filled with energy, determination and commitment. ENIL truly represents the grassroots organizations and is unique in this respect, as it is not an umbrella organization.

But there are threats! Funding is a threat. We work on a project basis, using EU funding. We greatly appreciate the grant from ULOBA, but would need more members willing to support ENIL. There is always a need for more staff, as the work to be done is endless.

ENIL's opportunity lies with the status of Independent Living today. Independent Living is on the EU and international agenda. We have many more active members and have the capacity to deal with an increasing number of issues, such as: personal assistance, women's rights, democracy or de-institutionalization. There is always a need of more awareness-raising, so the hope is that ENIL continues to grow, prosper and influence policy makers around Europe.

Jamie Bolling

ENIL – Executive Director

About ENIL

The European Network on Independent Living (ENIL) is a Europe-wide network of disabled people with members throughout Europe. ENIL is a forum for all people and organisations on Independent Living issues. ENIL promotes human rights and social inclusion based on solidarity, peer support, deinstitutionalization, democracy, self-representation, cross disability and self-determination.

ENIL promotes equal opportunities for disabled people and fights against discrimination in Europe. ENIL addresses the under-representation of persons with extensive disabilities in European disability and social politics, as well as in mainstream society.

ENIL's Mission

- Promote the Independent Living philosophy among disabled people, the general public, national policy makers, government administrations, as well as among regional bodies such as the European Union, the Council of Europe and the Organisation for Security and Co-operation in Europe (OSCE).
- Develop the concept, principles and definition of Independent Living. Promote the development of Centres of Independent Living throughout Europe and enhance solidarity and networking among them.
- Carry out training and awareness raising activities at the European level
- Represent Independent Living Organizations and the Independent Living movement at the European level and in different European bodies and organizations (the European Disability Forum, Disabled People's International etc.).
- Combat social exclusion and discrimination through policies which promote Independent Living of disabled people. Make the Independent Living framework instrumental to end discrimination against disabled people in Europe.
- Embrace the human rights of disability in acquiring independence and self-determination by overcoming the barriers of the medical and attitudinal models.

ENIL is a unique organisation; it is made up of strong-grassroots organisations guided by the human rights approach, there is enormous dedication by its members to promote, advocate and lobby for social change (empowerment of disabled people to take control over their lives) and the transferability of the Independent Living principles into applicable practices. ENIL represents a disability movement for human rights and social inclusion based on solidarity, peer support, de-institutionalization, democracy, self-representation, cross disability and self-determination.

Organisational Structure of ENIL

At Present, there are eight members of the ENIL Board; Mima Ruzicic Novkovic (Serbia) Javier Arroya ( Spain), Kapka Panayotova ( Bulgaria) , Peter Lambreghts ( Belgium) , Germano Tosi ( Italy) , Sue Bott ( England) , Vibeke Maroy Melstrom( Norway), Wassilios Katsioulis ( Greece/Germany). Due to the movement of the Secretariat to Dublin two Irish Board members were co-opted onto the Board with observational status Gordon Ryan (Ireland), Paul Fagan (Ireland).

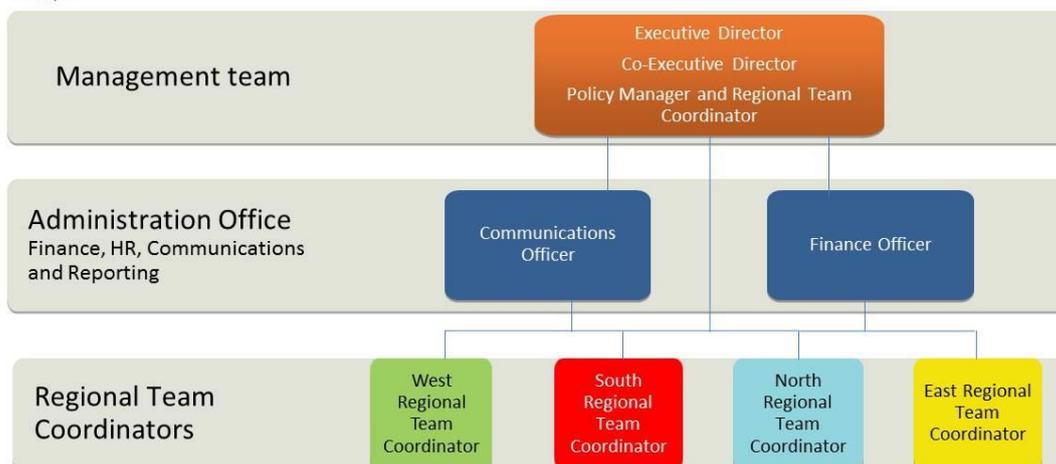

ENIL’s management team consists of the Executive Director, Jamie Bolling, Co-Executive Director Martin Naughton and Policy Officer and Regional Manager Ines Bulic.

The ENIL Secretariat is located in Dublin, Ireland. The Communications Officer, Vanessa Scanlon and the Finance Officer, Mladen Tubic are based in the Secretariat.

ENIL has four Regional Teams. ENIL’s North Regional Team is located in the Executive Directors Office in Sweden and is coordinated by Jamie Bolling, the Executive Director. ENIL’s West Regional Team is based in Onafhankelijk Leven and is coordinated by Peter Lambreghts, ENIL’s South Region is based in CIL Sofia, Bulgaria with Dilyana Deneva coordinating this region. ENIL’s East Region has two Regional Coordinators with Miro Griffiths centred in the United Kingdom and Grega Fadija centred in YHD in Slovenia.

ENIL Progress Organisational Chart

Main Objectives of the European Network on Independent Living

The main activities of the European Network on Independent Living throughout the year are guided and focused on the four main objectives outlined by the European Union Programme for Employment and Social Solidarity - PROGRESS. From 2007-2013, the four main objectives were:

1. Improving Organisational Capacity and Management
2. Voicing the Conditions, Concerns and Expectations of (1) People Exposed to Social Exclusion, Discrimination and Gender Inequality or ( 2) Organisations Providing Services to People exposed to Social Exclusion, Discrimination and Gender Inequality
3. Reinforcing the skills of the networks and member's organisations to advance, support and further the develop EU objectives and priorities at National Level
4. Better Integrating Cross-Cutting issues (EG. Gender, Poverty and Non-Discrimination) in Day-to-Day Work

Objective One: Improving Organisational Capacity and Management

In 2011, ENIL focused on strengthening its organisational capacity by partnering with Onafhankelijk Leven in Belgium which took the role as a base for ENIL's West Regional Team. In 2011, the other three teams, covering the East, North and South Europe were based in Slovenia, Sweden and Valencia respectively. In 2012, ENIL continued to strengthen the Regional Teams, with the South Regional Team being moved to the CIL-Sofia in Bulgaria with a new South Regional Team Coordinator being appointed.

ENIL went further in the process of strengthening its organisational capacity by moving the Secretariat in Valencia, Spain to Dublin, Ireland in July 2012. This gives greater consistency and control to the Secretariat in terms of language and the ENIL Company has also been registered in Ireland for a number of years. Financial Audits are carried out in Ireland. ENIL still maintains close links with the office in Valencia and provide support to the development of the Centre of Independent Living there.

ENIL has continued to develop the capacity of the regional teams and in 2012, held a West Regional Face-to-Face meeting in Antwerp, Belgium on the 22nd and 23rd October 2012, with a focus on Independent Living and the impact of the EU crisis on disabled people in Europe and a learning session on Quality of Life, an academic concept as a possible tool for Independent Living Activism.

ENIL's expertise on Independent Living and Personal Assistance was continuously sought in 2011/2012

ENIL hosted a number of study visits throughout 2011 and 2012, including a study visit from CIL Greece to CIL Sofia in Bulgaria and a DREAM Researcher based at the University of Iceland to JAG in Sweden.

In 2011, ENIL held a number of Start Up Conferences including one in Rome, on the 5th May, where delegates from Italy discussed starting a National Centre for Independent Living and one in Belgrade in Serbia on the 21-23rd December 2011. Start Up conferences were also held in 2012, in Drama, Greece, Bar Montenegro and Budapest, Hungary.

In 2012, ENIL held training on Independent Living and Personal Assistance for residents of the Stara Zagora institution in Bulgaria. Peer support training was also given with Independent Living trainers sharing their own experiences of leaving an institution. ENIL also provided Peer Support training in Tartu, Estonia in September 2012. During the sessions people gave accounts of their own personal life experiences.

ENIL supported a number of member organisation events organised throughout Europe including JAG's Future Conferences where the Executive Director of ENIL, Jamie Bolling spoke about future challenges to the Independent Living.

ENIL Study Session

ENIL and the Youth Department of the Council of Europe organised a week long study session, “Supporting Young Disabled People to Become Future Leaders of the Independent Living Movement” which successfully brought together young disabled people from all across Europe. Led by a team of young facilitators, all of whom are experienced Independent Living advocates, the participants discussed and learnt about a range of topics including the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities, working with the media and personal assistance.

A key outcome of the study session was a set of recommendations to national governments adopted by the participants and presented to a group of MEPs and the Council of Europe. These recommendations aim to improve the lives of disabled people and are focussed on four areas: changing perceptions and attitudes towards young disabled people by the society, Education, Transition to Employment and Institutions and Independent Living.

ENIL Youth Network

The majority of participants expressed an interest in continuing their involvement in ENIL and in contributing to the work of a Youth Network which would focus on promoting Independent Living and Personal Assistance. After the session, a Facebook page ENIL Youth Network was set up for participants to stay in touch, share information and ideas.

Objective Two: Voicing the Conditions, Concerns and Expectations of (1) People Exposed to Social Exclusion, Discrimination and Gender Inequality or (2) Organisations Providing Services to People exposed to Social Exclusion, Discrimination and Gender Inequality

The Strasbourg Freedom Drive was one of the main ENIL events in 2011.

This was a weeklong event which gathered 350 people from all over Europe. The aim of the events was to promote Independent Living philosophy, to encourage networking and to empower ENIL members to become more proactive.

The week-long event included a conference on the UN CRPD during which several international speakers addressed issues including; the work of the European Fundamental Rights Agency, the importance of disability research for the UN CRPD and the importance of monitoring the work of the convention. National Groups held meetings with their MEPs and approximately 85 MEPs were met throughout the week. A march took place on Wednesday 14th September 2011 in which 350 people joined together through the streets of Strasbourg to deliver ENIL's demands to MEPs at the European Parliament.

The 2011 Freedom Drive demands called on the European Union to take action on a number of key areas. ENIL called for Independent Living to be central in all relevant European Union policies, deinstitutionalisation- the closure of institutions by 2020, Personal Assistance for all in need and the inclusion of disabled people's organisations to be decisively involved at all levels of policy-making including planning, producing and implementation. ENIL also called for the full ratification and implementation of the UN CRPD and the Optional Protocol.

On the 15th September 2011, over 200 ENIL members met with MEPs from the Disability Intergroup and other MEPs at the European Parliament. Among the participants in the meeting was the Vice-President of the group; Cecilia Wikstrom and the President Adam Kosa who chaired the meeting.

Despite the difficult economic climate, people travelled from many countries throughout Europe including Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Croatia, France, Germany, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Latvia, Lithuania, Montenegro, Norway, Poland, Serbia, Slovenia, Spain, Sweden and the UK to the Freedom Drive.

Resolution Against the Cuts

On the occasion of the 2011 Freedom Drive, ENIL launched a Proposal for Resolution of the European Parliament on the effects of cuts in public spending on disabled persons the European Union. The Resolution outlines measures that should be taken by the Member States, the European Council and the European Commission to ensure that cuts in public spending do not lead to further social exclusion and institutionalisation of disabled people. ENIL urges that doing so is everyone's responsibility under the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities. The Proposal was presented to Members of the European Parliament at the Disability Intergroup meeting on the 15th September 2011.

On the 9th February 2012, ENIL held a hearing in the European Parliament. The hearing was hosted by the parliamentary group GUI/NGL (European United Left/Nordic Green Left). The purpose of this hearing was to show from a number of perspectives how disabled people are being negatively affected by the EU's current austerity policies. ENIL and its partner organisations presented evidence on the impact austerity measures are having in the lives of disabled people in the European Union and set out actions that can be taken by the European Parliament and the European Commission to address the situation. ENIL presented its 'Proposal for a European Parliament Resolution' on the effects of the cuts on disabled people. The hearing was received positively in the European Parliament and three members of the European Parliament actively participated in the hearing, Kartika Liotard, MEP, Netherlands, Cecilia Wikstrom, MEP, Sweden and Paul Murphy, MEP, Ireland.

As a direct follow up of this hearing, an ad hoc working group, entitled 'Defend the Right of Independent Living' was set up with ENIL taking the lead role to further the work towards the Proposal for a Resolution being adopted by the European Parliament. There has been good cooperation between ENIL and a number of other organisations in this working group, namely Autism Europe, Inclusion Europe, Mental Health Europe, Disabled People Against Cuts (UK), European Association of Service Providers for Persons with Disabilities (EASPD) and European Network of (ex) Users and Survivors of Psychiatry ( ENUSP). The working group works in close cooperation with Paul Murphy, MEP and has also sought support from the Employment and Social Affairs Committee to initiate debate and vote on the Resolution in the European Parliament. In order to help the Resolution to be adopted by the European Parliament ENIL created a 'Defend the Right to Independent Living: Action Toolkit for an EU Parliament Resolution'. This Action Toolkit outlined the background of this resolution, explaining the process of a resolution being adopted in the European Parliament and provides useful ideas and methods to raise awareness on the issue and to effectively convince MEPs to vote Yes to our resolution proposal.

ENIL Representation at EU Level

Representatives of ENIL participated in several EU Level events, where they were able to promote Independent Living and the right to personal assistance.

Three ENIL representatives participated and spoke in the 3rd European Parliament of Persons with Disabilities in December 2012. The Executive Director of ENIL spoke about the importance of the Independent Living Definitions, the Western Regional Coordinator of ENIL spoke about the impact of the crisis on the lives of disabled people and called on everyone to support the ENIL Proposal for a Resolution and John Evans, of the ENIL Advisory Panel spoke on deinstitutionalisation and the responsibility of the European Parliament and the EU institutions in implementing the UN CRPD.

In September 2012, ENIL organised a high level meeting with the Cyprus Presidency with discussion focusing on the promotion of deinstitutionalisation and the issue of accessibility in Cyprus.

ENIL was very active at the European Level, particularly when it comes to providing input into the work of the EU Fundamental Rights Agency ( FRA) with ENIL's Executive Director being elected in 2011 and then again in 2012 to the FRA Advisory Board. In 2011 ENIL also contributed to a symposium on human rights indicators and FRA's Fundamental Rights Platform. The Executive Director of ENIL had the honour of being invited to speak at the first European Mind Change Conference in Villach in May 2012.

ENIL Communications

ENIL's internet presence has increased significantly over the last two years. An important priority for ENIL was to encourage its members to communicate more actively, to share experiences and work together.

The ENIL website was redeveloped to ensure improved access to information about ENIL's work and to provide up-to-date information about developments on independent living of disabled people at EU and national level. On the 28th August 2012, ENIL launched its new website www.enil.eu and in addition to daily developments and action alerts (Disability Watchdog), the website introduces Role Models, Independent Living activists from across Europe who inspire others with their energy, commitment and ideas.

Press Releases were issued regularly in 2011 and 2012 on important occasions or as a reaction to developments (UK Government orders immediate enquiry following the abuse, Harassment and violence against people with challenging behaviour in Bristol and ENIL calls for the structural funds to support Independent Living) and have been distributed widely and published on the website.

The ENIL Newsletter has proved to be an excellent tool throughout 2011 and 2012 in terms of spreading ENIL's message to a wider audience. A new newsletter template was introduced in September 2012 making it more interactive and user reader friendly. Regional Teams contribute to each issue and each newsletter features examples of good practice, Disability watchdog, a role model and other relevant news and events.

ENIL have also set up a Facebook page which was created in May 2012, this page is aimed at reaching Independent Living Activists, ENIL Members and the General Public. ENIL also set up a hate crime network group on Facebook for those who attended the workshop on hate crime against disabled people to encourage the continuation of sharing experiences and sharing information.

Objective Three: Reinforcing the skills of the networks and member's organisations to advance, support and further develop EU objectives and priorities at National Level

ENIL organised trainings and workshops on Independent Living and on topics that affect the lives of disabled people throughout Europe in 2011 and 2012.

In 2011, four national independent living conferences were organised, in Belgium, France, Italy and Spain. All conferences focused on presenting the work of ENIL in Europe, the Freedom Drive 2011, the implementation of the UN CRPD and the state of Personal Assistance in the respective country.

In cooperation with the Office for Democratic Institutions and Human Rights (ODIHR) at OSCE, ENIL organised a workshop on hate crime against disabled people in May 2012 in Dublin, Ireland. The aim of the workshop was to increase ENIL's capacity to work on hate crime and to strengthen cooperation between ENIL and the ODIHR. It brought together twenty disability activists and their Personal Assistants from 15 different countries. As a result of the workshop ENIL and ODIHR agreed to work towards including disability as one of the explicitly mentioned projected characteristics for hate crime in the OSCE region. ENIL also formed a Hate Crime Network on Facebook among workshop participants.

ENIL also held training for Peer Counselling in cooperation with Handikapp from Tartu, Estonia from September 27th-30th 2012. The training was attended by thirty participants.

In September 2012, ENIL held a Roundtable on "Deinstitutionalisation: Residential Policy and Community Services" in Stara Zagora, Bulgaria. The Roundtable focussed on deinstitutionalisation, housing, access and community services.

Throughout 2011 and 2012 ENIL was actively involved in the European Expert Group on the Transition from Institutional to Community Based Care (EEG). In 2012, the group finalised the Common European Guidelines on the Transition from Institutional to community based care and the Toolkit on using European Union funding. ENIL supported and contributed in the launch of the Guidelines and the Toolkit, which took place in Brussels on the 20th November 2012.

Better Integrating Cross-Cutting issues (EG. Gender, Poverty and Non-Discrimination) in Day-to -Day Work

In 2011 and 2012, ENIL cooperated with a number of stakeholders.

ENIL is an Associated Partner in the Dream Project- Disability Rights Expanding Accessibility Markets which is led by the Centre for Law and Policy at NUI Galway. ENIL hosted one of the DREAM Researchers based in the University of Iceland who is focussing her research on the Right to Independent Living and the development of user-led personal assistance based at JAG in Sweden May 2012.

ENIL is full partner of the INNOSEV Consortium. The goal of the project is to identify innovative services to develop an innovative research agenda which should guide future European Union research. ENIL has hired a full time researcher based in Belgrade, Serbia to work on this project. In 2012, the Consortium collected approximately 200 innovative practice examples in welfare, health and education sectors throughout Europe and selected twenty innovative practice examples with geographic, sectorial and target group diversity as well as demonstrating different approaches to innovative social services.

In addition to the EU Fundamental Rights Agency and the European Expert Group on the Transition from Institutional to Community based Care, ENIL has continued being active in the European Disability Forum and is supporting EDF initiatives such as EDF response to the European Accessibility Act Consultation and was represented at the EDF General Assembly in 2011 and 2012. In 2012, the ENIL Executive Director was also appointed to the EDF International Development Cooperation Expert Group.

ENIL's member organisations have provided input into changes in legislation in relation to personal assistance. ENIL supported YHD in the collection of signatures to be able to put the Law on Personal Assistance into the process of adoptions in Slovenia. Throughout 2012, CIL Sofia ran a number of disability reviews which included proposals for legislative changes including (a) deinstitutionalisation policies- suggesting a new efficient community based social housing service, (b) assistance services for people with disabilities-suggesting new legislation on personal assistance and (c) participation in policy process-suggesting a legislative amendment regarding representation criteria and funding mechanisms.

ENIL Membership

The change in structure has proved to be a successful strategy which has led to increased grass-roots growth and representation. The regional teams were successful in establishing and maintaining contacts with organisations in their region and in increasing the network of ENIL members.

In 2011, there was an increase of 6 new member organisations and one new country and in 2012, there was an increase of 4 new organisations and 3 new countries.
